

A collage of protest signs and a woman shouting. The signs include "PROTECT", "WATER", "STOP", "INDIGENOUS", "BIG", "CLIMATE", "STOP", "WATER", "STOP", "INDIGENOUS", "BIG", "CLIMATE", "STOP". The woman is shouting with her mouth open.

PART I: OIL, WATER & CLIMATE RESISTANCE

NECESSITY

PART II: CLIMATE JUSTICE & THE THIN GREEN LINE

Friday
April 5 and 12
6:00 pm

Spurlock Museum
Knight Auditorium

NECESSITY Film Series

The Spurlock is kicking off its April focus on climate, culture, and community action with back-to-back viewings of the Necessity films. These award-winning films focus on the use of the necessity defense by activists in jury trials after being charged with trespassing. Both films center the struggles faced by Indigenous peoples as they navigate the encroachment of lethal chemicals onto their land brought by corporations.

Spurlock staff and guest facilitators will lead discussions after the films about the effects of the climate emergency—here in C-U and elsewhere.